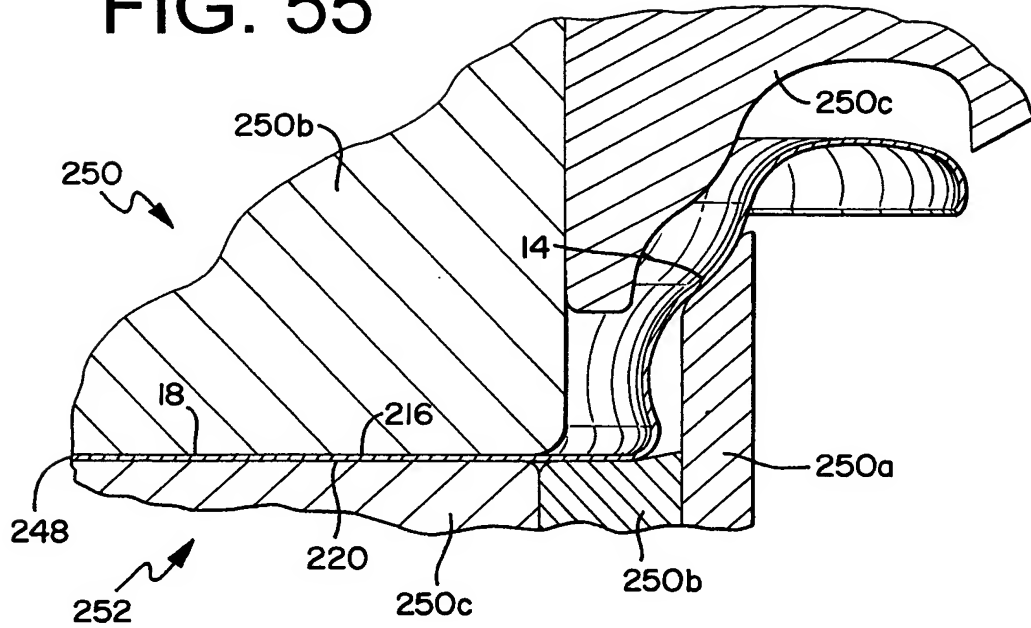

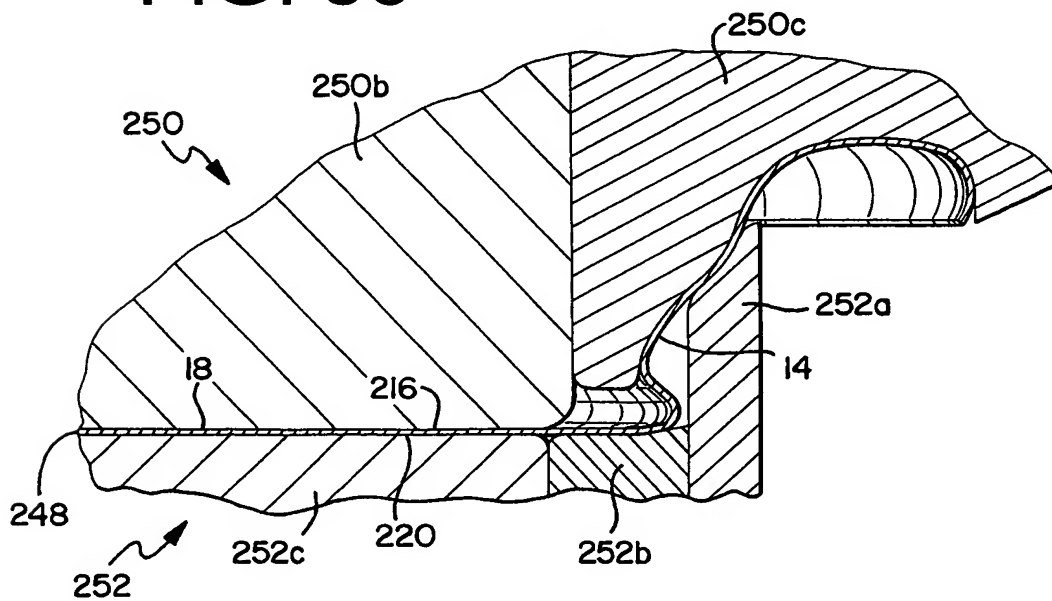

FIG. 56

A cross-sectional view of a device assembly. A central component, labeled 254, is shown in a cross-section with diagonal hatching. It has a curved, rounded top surface. To the right of this component is a vertical wall, labeled 256, also with diagonal hatching. A curved, flexible component, possibly a cable or a thin plate, is shown passing between the central component and the vertical wall, curving around the corner of the wall. The entire assembly is shown in a cross-section with diagonal hatching.
